

Soljans Estate

Two Daughters Rosé 2019

Tasting Notes:	On the nose you get red cherry and fresh raspberries. On the palate, you get vibrant strawberries and lime with a floral rose finishing it off. Off dry in style, being perfect for the summer months.
Winemakers Notes:	The name Two Daughters comes from Tony and Colleen Soljan's two daughters, Tonia and Lisa. Both of whom enjoy this wine which was made in an off dry style from a blend of grape varieties. A long cool fermentation and short skin contact time allow the rose colour and fresh, fruitiness to be maintained.
Food Match:	A stunning match to cheese boards or antipasto platters as it pairs well to a wide range of meats and salads.
Cellaring:	Ready to drink now, especially over summer. Enjoy over the next few years.
